HOUSE ROW IMPENDS

Republicans Will Replace James and Rainey.

INSURGENTS SPLIT ON ISSUE

Organization Has Plan Whereby Representatives Palmer, of Penn sylvania, and Borland, of Missouri, Will Sit on Ballinger-Pinchot Committee-Regulars on Fence.

Unless all signs fail there will be regulation old-time battle foyal in the House to-morrow. And the term is used to forecast not a dignified parliamentary engagement, but a scrap in which everybody punches everybody else, figuratively, and the participants get exhausted.

After figuring all day on a plan by which Representatives James and Rainey could be kept off the Ballinger-Pinchot committee of investigation without dis rupting the recent peace pact, forcing half of the half-tamed insurgents out of the Republican caucus this evening and egenerally kicking up a lot of dust, the House organization late yesterday afternoon reached a tentative decision.

Unite on Plan,

This is the plan: At the caucus tonight it will be proposed to select Representatives Olmstead, of Pennsylvania; McCall, of Massachusetts; Esch. of Wisconsin, and Madison, of Kansas, to serve as the Republican members of the joint committee of inquiry.

Mr. Esch replaces, in this tentative plan, Representative Stevens, of Minnesota, who has declined to serve.

It had been the plan to name two Democrats at the Republican caucus to serve on the committee in place of Messrs. James and Rainey, who are objectionable to the Republican side, owing to their partisan methods.

But as soon as it became apparent that if an attempt were made in to-night's Republican caucus to select two other Democrats for this work at least half, and probably more, of the insurgent strength would get up and walk out. It was necessary to find another adjustment of the situation.

So it was decided not to force the issue the proposition of formally selecting the House, Representative Mann, of Illinois. is to offer an amendment adding Representatives A. Mitchell Palmer, of Penn-Missouri, both Democrats, to the four Republicans.

Now when this question of adopting the amendment to be proposed by Mr. Mann is put to a vote, there will be all kinds

At least half the insurgents, led by Representative Norris, of Nebraska, say they believe the Democratic caucus selection should be ratified, however objectionable the selections may be in a partisan and political sense to the Republicans, and that they won't stand for this attempt by the organization to ring in a couple of

SENATE PROBERS NAMED.

Paynter and Fletcher Will Repre sent Minority in Ballinger Case,

Senator Paynter, of Kentucky, and Senator Fletcher, of Florida, have been chosen as the minority members for the Senate of the committee to investigate the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy.

The selections were made by Senator Money, the minority leader, who first requested Senators Hughes, of Colorado, and Clarke, of Arkansas, to represent the Democrats of the Senate in the investigation, but they preferred not to

CAPTAIN LOOSE.

O Captain Loose, of the good ship Goose, won't you tell us a seaman's tale? Of the wave-washed deck and the ghastly wreck, and the rocks, and the groaning gale? "I was 'fore the mast," answered Captain Fast-or Loose, as the case may be-"and our dancing bark, it was called the Shark, and the year was umptythree. And there came a blast that upset the mast, and rended the rudder chain; and we drifted south in the snarling mouth of a frightful hurricane. Week after week in the fume and reek, and the roar of the salt sea spray, we drifted on till our hope was gone-and we never left Broadway. And monsters dire with their eyes of fire, all over the bulwarks crept, and forty-foot eels and bears on wheels surrounded me when I slept; and there came forth from the wintry north vast coveys of antlered geese; aye, I heard their cries with my tarry eyes, or my name's not Captain Leese! And I might go on till the break of dawn, a-telling you what befell, when I sailed the Shark o'er the waters dark, in my room in a cheap hotel!"
